THEA 210 – Playscript Analysis 3 credit hours

Introduction to the techniques necessary to read, analyze, and understand playscripts for direction, performance, design, or research. Includes the exploration of dramatic structure, plot, character, imagery, and other elements which distinguish plays from other forms of literature.

THEA 225 – Acting I 3 credit hours

Explores the basics of what it takes to stand in front of a group of people, alone and be prepared to make a point, teach or act. The foundation of acting is learned through creative play, open critiques, and in-class exercises. Study will include Script Analysis, an introduction to basic Stanislavski acting terminology and techniques, beginning rehearsal techniques, and performance analysis. Performance skills will be practiced and enhanced through the preparation of monologues and a short scene. This course provides a strong foundation for any public speaking profession as well as for future actors and teachers.

THEA 226 – Acting II: Developing a Character 3 credit hours

Continued refinement of acting/performance techniques through the study and final performance of selected scenes, with a focus on character development and deeper script analysis. Students will perform various "object" exercises to give them an even stronger foundation from which to build a character. A realistic scene will have students "splash" in and out of the scene as they learn hyper-movement, the joker and inner monologues. Coursework includes the development of portraying emotional realism through the works of a modern playwright such as Strindberg, Chekhov or Ibsen.

Prerequisite: THEA 225
