DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY STUDIES AND INTERIOR DESIGN

Mission
The mission of Family Studies and Interior Design is to enable families, both as individual units and generally as a social institution to build and maintain systems of action which lead

1. to maturing in individual self formation,
2. to encourage enlightened, cooperative participation in the critique and formation of social goals and means of accomplishing them; and
3. to enable individuals to be critically aware of consumer resources and their management as well as to develop the competence to base actions upon rational, responsible decisions.

(The Department's mission statement is adopted in part from the Mission Statement of the American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences.)

Department Objectives
• Family Studies: To present opportunities to identify universal principles governing development in the family, encounter and analyze a variety of theories, and study the complex but integrated life-styles and family structures which evolve over the life span.
• The Interior Design program provides a comprehensive preparation for design problem solving. The program utilizes innovative teaching and experiential learning opportunities to foster a global perspective and equip students as innovators of design in future environments.

The Interior Design program is accredited by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation.
The Family Studies program is certified by the National Council on Family Relations.

(Students fulfilling the NCFR Curriculum requirements may apply for the Provisional Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) designation.)

Department Policy
All students completing a major or minor in the department will be required to earn a "C" or better grade in all FAMS courses in the major or minor.
