

PRE-OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

Pre-Osteopathic Medicine

Offered by Health Science Programs (<http://catalog.unk.edu/undergraduate/departments-programs/health-science-programs/>)

A minimum of 90 semester credit hours is required for admission at most osteopathic medical schools. However, students pursuing a pre-osteopathic medicine curriculum are expected to choose a major so that they can be working towards a baccalaureate degree concurrently with the pre-osteopathic medicine program. This requires a major/minor combination or a comprehensive major as well as completion of the UNK general studies requirements and other degree requirements as set forth in the college catalog. Medical schools do not specify which major a student should pursue in conjunction with his/her pre-osteopathic medicine studies. Gaining acceptance into a medical school is a very competitive process. Completion of the prerequisite courses does not guarantee admission. Admission to an osteopathic medical school is based on scholastic record, MCAT scores, personal recommendations, interview with members of the admissions committee, shadowing, and other extra-curricular activities.

The following requirements are based on the admission requirements of the osteopathic medical schools. Students should check with those specific schools to which they intend to apply for additional requirements. Students should be aware of prerequisites on all courses, plan their coursework accordingly, and see their advisor for course planning.
